FHTAGN!

What can we do for you?

Website

We develop websites of any complexity: landing page, company website, a complex information system or online store with a payment system, delivery system and integration with external services.

Design

We develop designs for websites, landing pages, information systems or web applications.

Bot

We develop bots that can notify customers about the start of an event, provide the user with useful information, help track the status of a request, communicate with the manager, and much more.

Support

We support all our projects. Even after years, we are ready to return to the project, to make any necessary changes or improve it.

Our guiding principles

We are focused on productive and long-term cooperation. Our guiding principles, developed through years of partnership with our customers, help us to do this.

Assurances

We provide a guarantee for our services. We correct any mistakes as soon as possible.

Product liability

We handle any abnormal situations immediately. Also, if the project involves an online event, we support the event.

Flexibility

Requirements are not "cast in stone". We are always ready to discuss changes and implement them in the project.

Consulting

We consult on all issues that relate to websites: management system, hosting, domain, work with mailing lists and so on.

Work procedure

1. Enter into an agreement
2. Together we form a work request. When forming a requisition, we evaluate the duration and cost of the work. We agree on a schedule.
3. You pay 50% of the requisition fee.
4. We execute the tasks from the request and present you the result of the work.
5. We are working on the feedback we have received.
6. When the work is accepted, we prepare an act and a report on the work performed. You pay the balance of the amount.

Price

30$

Chargeable man-hour rate

When calculating the cost of a project or task, we base it on the cost per man-hour. This approach is very convenient for a flexible development model, when working on small projects or support.

Why is it beneficial to work with us?

High-quality website development requires the coordinated work of a large number of specialists: the project manager, designer, layout designer, front-end developer, back-end developer and tester.

What you get by working with us:

- | a team capable of dealing with the challenges

- | no need to control all development processes

- | no vacations or sick leaves

- | no human resources issues

Focus on the result, we'll take care of the process
